Another marital sweepstakes has ended — Margaret Truman has chosen the man. She also has acquired anti-boredom insurance by selecting a newspaperman. Even better, maybe the marriage of Harry's daughter to a New York Timesman will bring a cessation of the Truman diatribes against the press.

J R — A sign in our office says "Keep your temper. No one else wants it." We glance frequently at this sign as the horde of political office-seekers gathers 'round soliciting free publicity. Our standard answer to this is that we'll happily announce that so-and-so has qualified for candidacy, as an item of general interest. After that he can take advertising space to tell people how good he will be at the office he seeks.

J R — If Lake Okeechobee stays as low as at present, we can look forward to a summer of viewing a lake vista akin to the Hatteras reefs. The frequency of boats running around is bound to pick up as the summer doldrums hit and more and more residents take to the Lake for recreation.

RACE SCHEDULE: Post time: all day May 8th. In the Congressional races, not racing will be Senator Spessard Holland who has two more years to go. Also, with an asterisk against him is Second District Congressman Charlie Bennett of Jacksonville. All the other members of the Florida Delegation will have to make the run around the track — although for the most it will be merely like an early morning warm-up.

Senator Smathers will have a young attorney from MacClenny, Erie L. Griffith, trying to race him out. In First District, incumbent Bill Cramer, Republican, will have no race on the 8th, but will be running against Democrat in November. His opponent will be the winner of the three-way Democratic primary fight on the 8th between Win King and Tom Johnson of Tampa and William A. F. Stephenson, of St. Petersburg.

Third District, "he-coon" Bob Sikes, incumbent, won't race in the primary but will be against Arthur Parker, Republican, in the general election. Fourth District incumbent, Dante Fascell, will sit by on the 8th and watch as two Republicans fight for the fun of racing him in November. Those two: Leland Hyzer and James E. May. Fifth District, Syd Herlong, will enjoy sitting out the primary. In November he will have taken opposition from Arnold Lund, "last minute" Republican from Daytona Beach. The last minute title comes because Lund had been registered as a Democrat, but changed his registration to Republican at the last minute.

Sixth District: Paul Rogers also will sit out the primary race and watch two Republicans fight for a spot on the November ballot: Dorothy A. Smith, Ft. Lauderdale against Charles P. Ware, from Jupiter Island.

Seventh District will be a democratic race on the 8th. Incumbent Jim Haley, of Sarasota, will be in the race, primary of the season. For those who like to watch, this might be the feature race of the day. He'll be trying to shake three Democratic opponents off his back: David Higginbottom, of Babson Park, who "also-ran" last time out against Haley.

Farm Employers Reminded Of SS

Farm employers of the Florida district were reminded today by District Director Laurie W. Tomlinson of the Internal Revenue Service that social security taxes were due on or before Jan. 31, 1956, from each employer who paid an employee $100 or more in cash wages during 1955 for agricultural labor. The taxes are 4 percent of the cash wages (2 percent employee tax and 2 percent employer tax). Any employer who did not report the taxes when due should obtain Form 943 from the Internal Revenue Service office at 420 Quarantary Building in West Palm Beach and should send his return to that office as soon as possible.

Cash wages paid in 1956 for agricultural labor will not be reported until Jan. 1957. District Director Tomlinson said that two changes in procedure are in effect beginning Jan. 1, 1956. The changes are as follows:

1. Deposits of employer and employee taxes during the year are required of each employer who owes more than $100 tax liability at any time before Dec. 1 of the year. Before 1956, deposits were required only if the employer's liability exceeded $100.
2. Form 943A (the quarterly return for 1955 to report taxes of $100 or more) will no longer be used. Each agricultural employer will continue to file an annual return on Form 943.

These changes are explained in the January 1956 revision of Circular A. Agricultural Employer's Social Security Tax Guide. Copies of the new Circular A have been mailed to farm employers who are on the district director's social security tax mailing list, and additional copies may be obtained from his office upon request.

Leonard Carter, of Lakeland, and Lefferts L. Maybelle, of Wauchoa. After coming through this one, Haley will face a publican in November: County Commissioner G. M. Nelson, of Sarasota. Eighth District: last race on the form will be a walk-away for Congressman Billy Matthews against a former opponent, Guy Andrews, of Starke.

Don't know what I'd do without the Associated Press. Obviously, the regional managers of that international newsgathering agency are dog lovers.

I have gotten around to reading newspapers again, after a few busy weeks of leading a frighteningly social life. And dog items (AP) is loaded with them. And they prove that dogs are acting more like people every day — a fact useful to contemplate.

Out in Los Angeles, (AP) reports that owners of an airdale, the late Magee, have sued two other dog owners for $2,995 damages for his death.

Their complaint says that old Magee was being walked when Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lee Smith's two dogs, unleashed, began barking at Magee. He dropped dead of a heart attack.

The suit demands $2,495 for the loss of Magee and $500 for the owners' anguish.

This story lost some of its savour when I noted that Magee was pedigreed and the Smith dogs are mixed breeds. A certain class distinction appears evident.

Even I can't believe any old airdale is worth $2,995—good heavens, my price tag was ever so much lower than that, and we dachshunds were rooting around some years before those old whiskered Scots made their appearance.

What about those Angelenos needed was dog insurance, then the poor Smiths wouldn't be getting sued.

In Kansas City, (AP) reports two insurance men are offering policies covering hospital expenses for dogs who fall ill, or are hurt in accidents, or come off badly after encountering cars. The cost is $15 a year, and covers dogs for veterinary treatment including hospitalization, surgery, X-rays, laboratory fees and drugs. The first $10, or 20 percent, is deductible, as in auto insurance.

So it would appear that if a dog merely loses an ear or gets a damaged foot, it's on the owner.

(AP) reports out of Bartlesville, Okla. that a racoon was booked by police for disturbing the peace, resisting arrest, and loitering.

Okay, a racoon isn't a dog (not by a long shot), but I feel free to classify 'coons as such for purpose of discussing dog-lovers.

At any rate, it do appear that dogs (and racoons) are getting more like people all the time. Or people are treating dogs more like people all the time. Something like that.

Just wait'll we get the vote!

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 5 Tax Benefits Ease Pain of Sickness

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Florida Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

Nobody likes to be sick. But if you have a sickness during your family's tax year 1965, you may be able to get a tax deduction for the cost of the sickness. First there is the question of "sick pay." If you were absent from work due to injury or sickness, your employer (either by contract or regular pay) or his insurance company, these payments, within limits, are free of tax. There are two limitations: First, the maximum amount is $100 per week, plus any amounts which came from your own contributions to the plan. Second, unless the absence was for sickness during which you were hospitalized at least one day, or for an injury, the payments are not tax free until after the first 7 calendar days of absence.

If these payments are included in the wages shown on your withholding slips, you should subtract the proper amount from your income in the plan provided on the first page of the tax return (Form 1040). Attach an explanation as described in the instructions. You are entitled to exclude this amount even if you do not itemize your deductions. Apart from sick pay, you may have received payments covering medical expenses for yourself and your dependents. Don't include these in your income, but don't deduct the medical expenses covered by these payments either.

Medical Deductions. If you itemize your deductions, you may be able to save tax money by listing medical and dental expenses you paid for yourself and your dependents. This year you list your medical and dental expenses on a separate sheet, rather than on the form itself. Space is provided on the form for figuring the amount that is allowable as a deduction. You are allowed a deduction for your medical expenses beyond 3% of your adjusted gross income. If you (or your husband or wife) were 65 or over at the end of the year, the 3% rule does not apply to your medical expenses. It does apply to any medical expenses you pay for your dependents. Your deduction is limited to a

'MAY DAZE' IN ELECTIONS

WEST PALM BEACH — It will cost county taxpayers approximately $9,000 for the probable May 22 run-off election to give one of four Democratic candidates for the unexpired term of state legislator from Palm Beach County the chance to "see Pink" in the May 29 general election.

"Pink" is George Pink, Republican who is unopposed in his party in the May 8 primary election for the unexpired term. In this initial election the four Democrats—Clyde Windham, Harvey Oyer, Jr., John O'Neil, and Ralph Blank, Jr.—will seek 50% of the Democratic party vote tally required to qualify the winner to meet Pink.

Voters are likely to find the May elections highly confusing. For one thing, they'll use voting machines on May 8, use paper ballots in the May 22 run-off (if held), and both the machines and paper ballots in the May 29 election.

As pertaining to the legislative race for the seat until recently occupied by F. O. "Bud" Dickinson, the "May Daze" shapes up like this:

May 8 — General primary for unexpired term. Also general primary for full term.

May 22 — Run-off of Democratic nominees for the unexpired term, winner to meet Pink in May 29 election.

May 29 — Demo winner vs. Pink in general election for unexpired term (this new legislator to serve on call in special summer legislature). Also run-off election to pick top Democratic and top Republican, who will meet in November general election to vie for full-term legislative post.

ROBINSON —

In a hassle over whether to grant two new requests for free parking space in front of business places, commissioners voted to charge $25 per year for each hooded parking meter in the downtown area and asked City Attorney Claude Jones to look into the new rule's legality in relation to rented parking meters. Mayor Ashley's vote "yes," with Ingram and Livingston, downed the votes of Ellis and Unwin against.

Commission followed the recommendation of the recreation committee that action be taken to hiring a city recreation director on Livingston's motion seconded by Ellis, and providing that salary come from franchise rebate money. Ingram strenuously objected to hiring a recreation director "to come in here and get all the glory" after Mrs. C. W. McCall, parks director, "has worked her head off." Unwin requested that the city attorney check on the hiring of a recreation director separately, not under civil service and not over any city department head, as in Mrs. McDonald's position.

Among other actions, commission DENIED the request of Randolph Livingston asking reduction of his bondsman license fee of $100, on motion of his brother, Commissioner Livingston.

RULED, on recommendation of the city manager that large trucks stay off all residential zoned streets.

AUTHORIZED purchase of a Dictaphone machine at a cost of $444.

HANDY ANDY

BELLE GLADE — Perplexity reigned at City Commission Wednesday night when Andrew Mollo, who operates a liquor business in a condemned building at 232 SW Fifth St., requested transfer of his license to a new site at 256 SW Fifth St.

Although both locations are in the city zone approved for alcoholic beverage sales, the new site violates the ordinance of keeping such establishments at least 300 feet away from a church by being only an estimated 240 feet away. City Attorney Claude Jones said he believed the distance ordinance would prevail in the apparent conflict.

Mollo pointed out that there was no objection from the people of the Negro Baptist church in question. And he pointed out, the church was moving to a new location, anyway.

Questioned by commissioners, Mollo said that the church couldn't move out until the present building is sold to give the congregation money enough to start building.

Jokingly asked by commissioners why he didn't buy the church and settle the problem, Mollo seriously said, "I already have a bid in."

Upshot of the discussion building in which Mollo rents space to remain standing beyond the June 1 condemnation date if the Negro church has not yet relocated.

Founders' Dreams Cited By Top Elk

PAHOKEE — Local Elks were urged Wednesday night by Grand Exalted Ruler John L. Walker, of Roanoke, Va., to become inspired with the same type of omnipotent "stardust" as the founders of BPOE.

The top official in Elksdom was honored guest, with his program-dance which was one of the most important meetings ever held by local Elks. The attendance of nearly 300 included Elks, wives and guests from Ft. Lauderdale, Ft. Myers, Miami Beach, West Palm Beach, Lake Worth, Belle Glade, and Canal Point.

The grand exalted ruler was introduced by Grand Trustee William Wall of West Palm Beach. Walker lauded Pahokee Elks for their outstanding accomplishments and expressed the hope that they in turn would inspire further good deeds.

To Continue Youth Work — Youth activities will continue to be a major Elk goal, Walker emphasized, noting that "the youth of our nation are the trustees of posterity." He urged continued fine work in supporting the Harry - Anna Crippled Children's Home that Florida Elks founded and maintain at Umatilla.

Following the barbecue, local Exalted Ruler Leon Spooner opened the program ceremonies, calling on District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Luke Fraser to introduce Grand Trustee Wall.

Informality and warm cordiality marked the occasion for the Walker's official visit to Pahokee. The guest speaker had a fine sense of humor, and sparked good laughter from his audience in the process of getting his inspirational message across.

OES Honors Past Officers — Mrs. Rachel Harrington was in charge of the Pahokee OES program held Mar. 9 honoring past patrons and past matrons of the chapter. The patrons were presented boutonnieres and the matrons floral bracelets.

Cat-Dog Rain Literal

It "rained cats and dogs" — literally — with the GLADES OBSERVER want ads department this week. The "literally" has a "litter-al" basis in fact, too, as a litter of kittens is offered for sale, along with hopes that someone will find a lost dog. Confidence in OBSERVER want ads results expressed itself in a new seasonal record of classified ad listings in this week's issue (see pages 7 and 4). Phoning Pahokee 571 will list your ad.

Benefit Supper Tonight At 6

The Church of God of Prophecy will have a benefit chicken supper at the Canal Point Community Hall today starting at 6 p.m. The cost will be $1 for adults.

READ THE WANT ADS

Through this portal for past two weeks have been passing Glades residents registering to vote. County Registrar DeWitt Uphigrove devised the portable registration office so that prospective voters who don't make it to West Palm Beach to register can do so in their hometowns. Uphigrove set up shop in Lake Harbor Mar. 5, and has stopped in every town around this end of the Lake to take registrations. He is now at Canal Point, and will remain through tomorrow.
